There are no quick or easy solutions to planning for the future of your family member with developmental disability*, however there is much you can do now.

MEET OUR SPEAKERS

Family Member Catherine Hogan—hear from Catherine who will share the planning tools, ideas and considerations her family made around the future of her sister. Ideas that can be actioned now!

Lawyer Anne Cregan—representing law firm Gilbert + Tobin, Anne will take us through the legal aspects and considerations for a person with disability.

This will be a great opportunity for others in your family such as siblings and cousins to come along to the workshop and be part of the thinking around the best future for your family member

Family Advocacy is an independent and impartial advocacy organisation that works with families across NSW to promote and defend the rights and interests of people who have developmental disability*

The organisation is managed and staffed by parents and allies of people with disability who recognise the issues families face and who can assist in strengthening the advocacy of families.

*Developmental disability is a disability that occurs in the developmental period of a person's life (in the period from conception to adulthood) and includes intellectual disability, cerebral palsy, spina bifida, autism, and any combination of physical, intellectual or sensory disability.
