

Online Discussion Series with family

A D V O C A C Y

A monthly discussion to boost your confidence on NDIS matters

This discussion series aims to boost your confidence and resilience, so you can be proactive in setting course for a successful journey through the whole of life for your family member with developmental disability.

Why do we need these discussions?

The NDIS journey has been full of speed bumps, potholes, detours and for some the road was blocked.

The past few years have demonstrated that we can't put all our eggs in the NDIS basket and although funding is helpful it doesn't solve everything.

What topics are important to you?

Here are some examples:

- Why is a Vision relevant when preparing for planning meetings?
- Duplication of services
- Thinking outside therapy
- How could a Coordinator of Supports assist my family member?

To make sure the discussion is relevant and useful to you, you will have the opportunity to send your topic or issue in the registration form.

Scan the barcode to go to the events page of our website, where you can find the details of the next session. The sessions are free, but registration is essential.

We look forward to seeing you at the next session!
